VETERAN SAILS ON SAME SHIP AS WIFE, SON

NEW PRESIDENT

Three Newmarket veterans are expected to arrive in Toronto today after service overseas. They are Ptes. Lowell Guy Widdifield, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Frank Widdifield, 5 Davis Dr., William John Weir, son of Mrs. John Weir, 8 Ellen St., and the late Mr. Weir; and Cpl. G. D. Tomlinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Tomlinson, 13 College St. Pte. Widdifield has been overseas for a year and a half. He has served in England, Holland and in Germany with the occupational forces.

He is married to the former Alta Mitchell and has one daughter, Judy, three years old. Before enlisting he was employed at Pollock's Fox Farm at Jersey and for a short time was a farm hand at Keswick.

Pte. Weir, 68 Andrew St., has been overseas for two years and saw service with the infantry in Belgium, Holland and Germany. He saw action in Germany when the final blows were being struck.

Pte. Weir trained at Simcoe, Borden and Debret, N.S., before going overseas. Brought up and educated at Newmarket, he was married ten years ago and now has three children, Larry, Lois and Kenneth. His father, John Weir, died last March.

Before enlisting he was employed by Davis Leather Co.

Cpl. G. D. Tomlinson, who was a farmer before enlisting six years ago, has been overseas for five years. A member of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, he has been a mechanic in England.

Coming home with Cpl. Tomlinson are his English wife, the former Norma Kersley, whom he married three years ago, and his 15-months-old son, David John.

Vets Take First Of Series For J. L. Spillette Trophy

BY ORVILLE GANTON

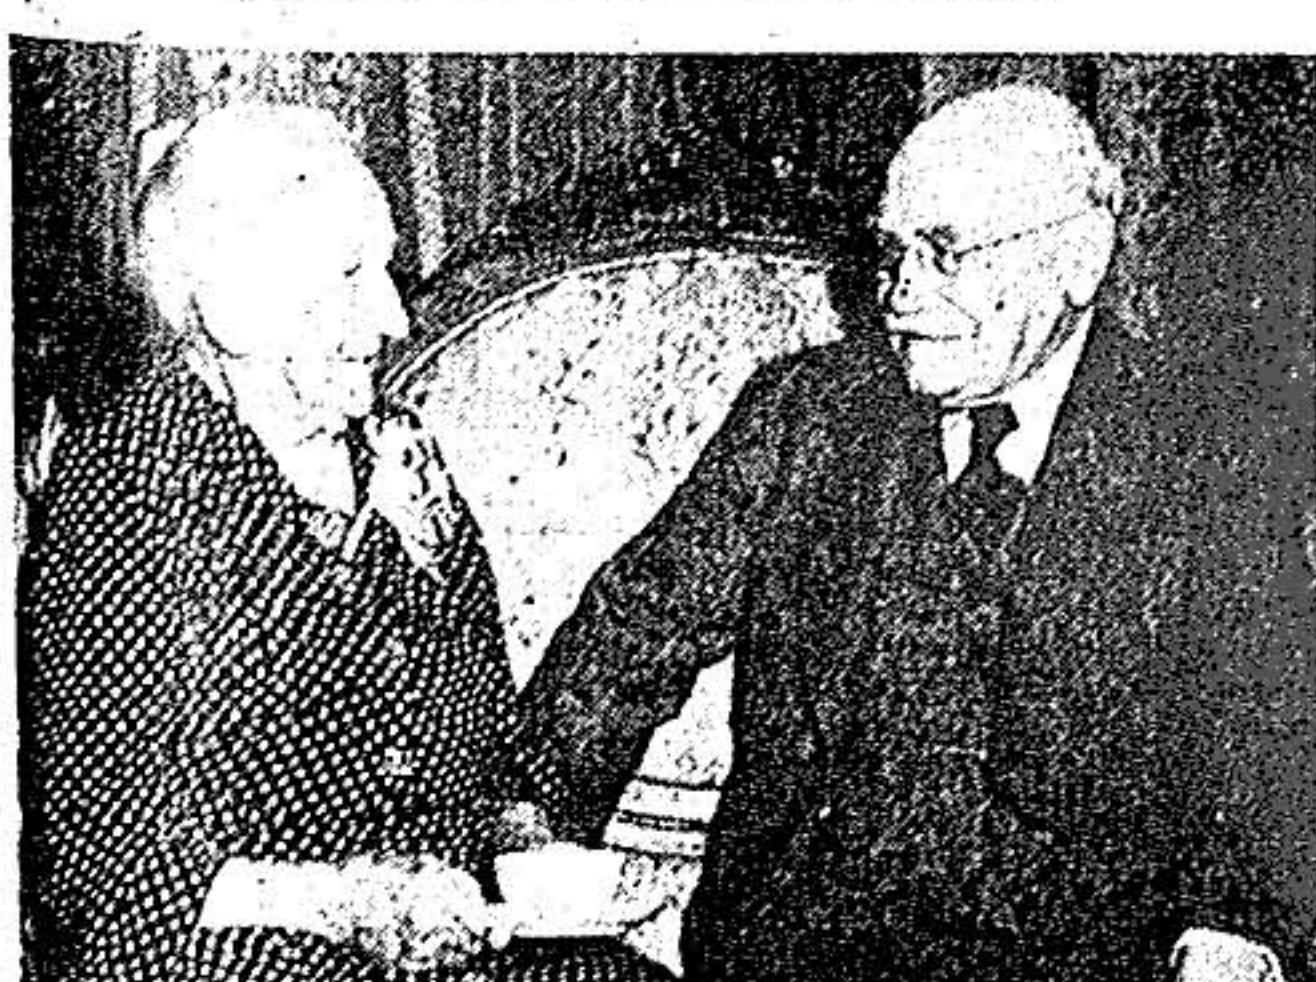

The long awaited Yonge St. League play-offs for the Joe Spillette cup finally got underway at the Stuart Scott school Tuesday in a downybrook which could be best described as "operation protest." A small crowd was thrilled with a double-headed affair—a fast, well-played ball game and a long, poorly conducted argument. The veterans, with well sharpened spikes bristling in the sunlight and the added incentive of playing under protest, took the first hit by a 8-3 count.

Hits by Gibney and Moshier with Mickey Smith's ringing double accounted for three runs to put our warriors over the first trench. In the second, Harry Gibney, with blood in his eye, almost took the fender off a brand new priority job in centre field with a home run that sent VanZant scampering home for runs four and five. In the third, Fred Evans laid down a perfect bunt and then scored on Doug May's well placed hit. Another home run by Stan Evans and hits by VanZant and Dobbie made the last two runs. "Iceman" Bill VanZant cooled off nine Hillers (that's an i. Except for Scott, who hammered editor) via the strike-out route. Out two home runs, he was never in trouble. Bennett did not pitch as well as on his last appearance here. Maybe all the excitement was too much for the old maestro's blood pressure. Newmarket goes to the Hill Thursday with the third game here Friday at 6:15 p.m.

Quips from the battle dept.: Ceegars McDonald, "I wish my lads had been playing under protest with New Toronto." Umpire Ab. Hulse, "One consolation, when they're jumping the league officers they're not jumping us." Irate lady fan, "Maybe the poor boys 'ain't had their supper." Stan Evans, "Who's me?" Toddy Moshier, "Sounds like the Paris peace conference." Waterboy Stoggy Hodges, "I'm hoping it finishes in a good fight."

RECALLING FORMER YEARS

Charles H. Haight, Sherbourne St., Toronto, former resident of Newmarket, talks over old times with Mrs. James Sutherland, 21 Prospect Ave.

Founder Of Simpson's Store Kin Of Mrs. J. Sutherland

A bit of history has been uncovered in Newmarket by Charles Haight, a former resident of this district who left Newmarket in 1922 and is now living on Sherbourne St. in Toronto.

He met Mrs. James Sutherland, 21 Prospect Ave., and while talking over old times learned of a connection between Mrs.

Sutherland and the late Robert Simpson, founder of Simpson's store in Toronto.

Mr. Simpson was a cousin of Mrs. Sutherland and had been raised by Mrs. Sutherland's mother in Inverness, Scotland. Mr. Simpson was also in business in Newmarket at one time as a partner of Moses Bogart.

H.S. ASSN. BEGINS WINTER ACTIVITIES

The Newmarket Home and School Association opened its fall activities Tuesday evening with a party for members and teachers in the parish hall of St. Paul's Anglican church.

Over 100 parents and teachers crowded the hall and joined in the contests and later progressive whist. Sixty new members were reported enrolled during the evening.

Classes in smocking, knitting and leatherwork have been arranged and plans are being made for instruction in other forms of hobby work. Mrs. Ted Mitchell, box 673, Newmarket, is convening the class.

Winners Tuesday night were: hat contest, Mrs. Fred Dennis and Wm. Epworth; bag contest, Mrs. Langton and John Meyer; court whist, ladies' high, Mrs. Ken Russell; men's high, Bob Henderson.

NO EXCUSE FOR FARM STRIKE

Members of the Alberta Farmers' Union were on strike last week in an attempt to force government recognition of their demands for increased return for farm products. No matter what virtue their demands may possess, the action of the Alberta and some Saskatchewan farmers is to be roundly condemned.

The strike represents an attempt, by the use of coercive methods, of one part of the population to impose their demands upon a government representing all of the population. Such a strike is a dangerous precedent. If the use of strike methods is adopted by all groups of citizens having a disagreement with government policy, Canada would very shortly resemble an anarchy.

An indication of the kind of thinking which might eventually produce just that situation in Canada is the headline over the strike story as it appeared in the C.C.F. News. The headline reads: "Farmers forced to strike by King bungling". The assumption is that not having received a favorable reply to their demands for improved farm income, the farmers had no other recourse than to strike.

The substitution of strike methods for reasoned arguments is not, nor ever can be, the right course of action for unsatisfied groups of citizens. To accept coercion as a means to an end is to reject the very principles of democracy. There is no comparison here between the strike of workmen against their employer, recognized by law, and the strike of farmer against government.

The former is a private dispute; the latter is a public dispute for by striking against the government, the farmer is striking against all citizens. Nor does the fact that a bungling labor policy by the federal government has let Canada be tied in the throes of industrial turmoil excuse a strike by farmers as well. A second wrong is not going to correct the first.

GOOD BUSINESS

Barrie has set an example which Newmarket will find worth considering. Last week, it held a "Farmers' Day" when the farmers of the district about Barrie were the guests of honor of that municipality. An afternoon and evening program of sports and dancing provided the entertainment for the hundreds of farmers and their families who answered the written invitations of the Barrie Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. L. J. Stiver, secretary of the Barrie Chamber of Commerce, summed up the purpose of the Farmers' Day, the first in Ontario, with these words: "We want the people who live on the farmers around Barrie to feel they are a part of Barrie and vice versa. The town couldn't exist without the farmers who are the backbone of the community."

Newmarket is the business centre for a large number of farm families. Saturday night is a big night in Newmarket because of it. With equal force, the words "the town couldn't exist without the farmers" apply to Newmarket. Yet Newmarket has been tardy in recognizing its obligations to the farmers. It has only been in the past year, for example, that a rest-room has been provided for visitors. The market, nominally under the supervision of the Newmarket town council, is a disgrace.

Newmarket businessmen show a very great awareness of the business value of farm customers when municipal measures which might have a discouraging effect on farm business are discussed. Regulating Main St. parking is one such measure. Plans to limit parking on Main St. to a half-hour, or to one side of Main St. only are invariably laid aside for fear of their effect on the farm business.

This sort of concern with a section of the community is negative. While nothing is done to discourage farm trade, little or nothing is done to encourage it. A Newmarket Farmers' Day would go far towards encouraging the intercourse between town and farm which must continue if Newmarket is to support its growth.

But more than a Farmers' Day is needed if Newmarket is to strengthen its friendship with the surrounding district. Newmarket must first recognize the responsibilities it has in improving its services to the farmers in the community in the form of improved market facilities, traffic control and in the hundred and one other ways which make the difference between a friendly town and "just another town."

Kenny, age three and a half, just missed being hit by a car on Main St. the other day. Quick thinking on the part of the driver in applying his brakes prevented an accident.

Kenny's mother had taken him with her, as usual, on a trip down town. On this particular trip, Kenny left his mother while

MONEY NEEDED TO PROVIDE SERVICE

At its last meeting, the Newmarket board of health passed a resolution asking the Newmarket town council to take under consideration the construction of a sewage disposal plant. At a meeting of the council last week, the resolution was referred to the finance committee.

Commenting on the resolution, Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales, who had moved the resolution at the board of health meeting, said in effect that the sewage disposal plant must be built sooner or later, and urged an early start on the project.

The board of health resolution highlights the need for extended community services. Even the most conservative of estimates places Newmarket's population at 6,000 within the next two or three years. Plans must be made now to accommodate this growth or else it will become a handicap and not an asset.

Under the chairmanship of Frank Bowser, the roads and bridges committee has undertaken a sewer program which will extend this service south on Prospect and along Andrew St. But this is only a beginning. Roads and sidewalks must be improved and extended. The bridge on Queen St. must be repaired or replaced. A new well must be sunk, and last week, council discussed a plan for making use of Widdifield park for a parking lot. These are only a few of the problems facing the council. There are many others yet to be recognized. In whatever category they fall, they have this in common: they all require money to be successfully solved.

Two years ago, the tax rate in Newmarket was severely cut. Last year, it rose to 37 mills. Next year, it must be increased again if the Newmarket town council is going to be able to do an efficient job of providing the citizens with adequate municipal services. There is no use dodging this fact.

Let us for once lay aside our concern with lowering tax rates and reducing of debenture debts, and recognize the need of debentures and high tax rates if Newmarket is going to be serviced as a town of its size and importance should be. No municipal council can function without money. There is no point to complaining that the council won't do this, or won't do that if the citizens are not willing to provide it with the necessary finances. Let us have done with such complaining and instead, urge the municipal council to extend its budget to include payment for the services so vital to a well managed community.

It was a splendid time to get together, for not only was Miss Lewis, our Ontario superintendent, speaking, but another matter, common to both branches, was brought up, discussed and settled. This was the plan, tentatively approved at the D.A., that for the Institute's 50th anniversary each member of every branch should contribute $1 toward endowing a scholarship in Home Economics and building a suitable housing place at Stoney Creek for various relics sacred to Institutes.

MARRIED—At Mount Albert, September 28, 1921, Chloe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Sedore, Brownhill, to David Hillis, Brownhill.

The citizens will welcome the decision of the Newmarket town council to rent the drill hall at the former military camp during the winter months to a market gardener and not to a construction firm. Despite assurances to the contrary, it was inevitable that a construction firm, using the drill hall as a repair and storage centre for road making machinery, would inflict irreparable damage to the concrete floor. Used as a storage for marsh produce, there can be little damage to the hall.

Mr. Albert Lindenbaum has part of his new cleaning establishment on Davis Dr. built. Mr. Lindenbaum bought two army huts from the military camp and is placing them on cement foundations for part of his plant. On Queen St., steel posts are being put into position for erection at the Hoffman plant, and the walls are being built on the heating unit. Mr. Bill Koeschel has undertaken the remodelling of the building at the corner of Main and Timothy Sts., making room for three more stores on the Timothy St. side of the building. This building activity, difficult as it is in these days of shortages, all adds up to a growing municipality.

INSTITUTES FIND THE ANSWER

Women's Institutes stand for many things—for homemaking, for education, recreation, social and child welfare—in short, for bringing out the best in every woman. Helping where help is needed has always been woman's privilege and of late years, how nobly they have lived up to their reputation. Let their work for stricken Europe, and beyond Europe, speak!

In clearing up some papers in the post office this week, Mr. Bastedo came across an old piece of green paper which illustrates how the post office department carried on business 50 years ago.

The paper was used as a wrapper for a money letter in care of Moses Knight, East Gwillimbury, Home District, and was directed to the postmaster at Newmarket. The letter was posted at St. George, N.B., Aug. 26, 1847, arrived in Quebec Sept. 1, and reached Newmarket Sept. 6, 1847. The receiver had to pay 30 cents. A registered letter posted in Quebec this morning would arrive in Newmarket tomorrow night and would cost the sender eight cents. This shows how a half a century has gone in Canada in this line.

One more river to cross, and perhaps by the time you read this, Schomberg softballers will be over the Rubicon or looking wistfully after Princeton, safe on the other side.

Last week the two clubs met in two hectic matches. Up at Princeton, Schomberg squeezed out a 9-8 win and on the basis of their showing looked certain winners for the Mitchell Hepburn trophy. On Saturday at Beeton, the Oxford County boys struck fast, establishing a 5-0 lead, and although Schomberg tied the count, the visitors went on to win 10-8. That left everything even-steven and after a lengthy pow-wow it was agreed to play the rubber game back at Beeton.

On their return home, Princeton had a change of heart and advised Schomberg that they wouldn't come to Beeton on Tuesday of this week and would await a report from the league executive. There the matter rested at the weekend. There was a crowd of over 1,000 at Beeton on Saturday, and they were disappointed, but still confident their favorites could win.

Both teams secured 11 hits, off pitchers Ellison and Beaton, but errors provided the winning margin. Schomberg used the Beeton diamond because the hometown field was being readied for Schomberg fair. The Beeton stadium is a credit to a small community and one of the best for miles around.

Next year a new diamond will be made at the south end of the fair grounds and the labor has already started. Bleachers and dressing rooms are hoped for.

There were eight groups in the rural intermediate A series this year, revived since being dormant from 1940. Princeton had put away Dutton and New Dundee before meeting Schomberg.

Hastings turned the full fury of their power on Thornhill in the second game of their series at Thornhill last week and when it was all over, the score board read 16-4 for the visitors. The Thornhill team accorded Teddy Bennett wretched support and as you have seen, when the team blows behind him, the veteran Bennett doesn't believe in killing himself in a lost cause.

Finally, the series for the Joe Spillite trophy can get underway, and about time too, sez "Ceegars" McDonald. It's a best of five series and by this time, if the weather has been good, the third game will be coming up in Newmarket Friday night.

The fourth game will be at Thornhill, and if a fifth is necessary it will be played at Aurora.

We'll be in the midst of it along with Somers, Willowdale. We look for the Vets to take the series if they aren't too badly out of practice. It'll be no push-over, however, and if Thornhill once gets rolling they'll be hard to take.

Aurora softballers can take a bow for a great finish under difficulties. The boys played in and out ball all season but have been really turning it on from mid-August. Any kind of a break at Thornhill would have taken the round. On Friday, minus Wilf White, they lost out on bad breaks. The team has lost a lot of playing strength over the year and they performed better towards the end than even their leading supporters thought they would. Their average over the year was around .600, which isn't bad. Next year many of the present players will be gone and Ace Yake already is discussing plans for 1947.

If the weather holds out, the winner of the Newmarket vs. Thornhill series might consider on either Schomberg or Mount Albert to really settle any arguments as to the "best in North York".

There's no joy in Mudville! No siree, it was pretty gloomy around "the hub" on Saturday night, as George Haskett and his Newmarket Juniors found themselves relegated to the sidelines by a Stouffville, or pardon us, Markham-Milliken aggregation who just wouldn't be denied and on two days last week proved themselves the better team.

Actually the pitching seemed the real difference. Orval Rows, Milliken, and "Speedy" Schipman, Markham, were better all the way than Tom Dales, "Lefty" Gibson and "Bugs" Broughton.

The Newmarket batters last Saturday just couldn't hit the ball on the ground, with the result the Stouffville outfields shagged everything coming their way with comparative ease. Stouffville, we presume, now meets Bowmanville and will start from scratch in that series, something Newmarket couldn't have done.

Was it publicity or did Taylor Spink, editor of the St. Louis Sporting News, have to be called into consultation regarding the dispute filed by Stouffville? The rule book and past decisions are quite adequate on the point and from the start Stouffville had good grounds to go on. We venture to suggest, however, that if there had never been a protest filed on the eligibility of Tom Forgie, Stouffville would never have retaliated.

Throwing out Forgie pulled the Stouffville team together and at the end a real club spirit with fan backing was available. The series with Bowmanville should be fairly even with Delhi, from the tobacco belt, providing the next opposition. The rival set of fans hadn't anything much but eyes for their own team and the players hadn't much regard for each other either.

It was unfortunate "Pee-Wee" Rutledge should choose Saturday for his worst performance of the year and the catching on both sides left a lot to be desired. The throwing was especially poor. It was catcher Ken Schell, Stouffville, however, whose triple with the bags full really broke up the game. Personally, we missed the boat badly and somebody has already reminded us of a remark about eating a hat.

George Haskett, maestro of the Newmarket team, can take a bow for his work this year. The job of keeping his boys together from May until now hasn't been an easy one, and the loss of such boys as Tommy McHale, Winger and Bill Hopper didn't help either. The two Doolittle boys from Aurora were valuable assets and Mickey Sutton might have helped too, along with Don Little, Richmond Hill, Ron Simons and Mac Clement of the Aurora midgets who would have been handy.

There's always another year and the hot-stove league will probably be replaying the past season for some months to come. "It's our year in 1947" will probably be George's slogan.

Toronto Lizzies and Hamilton Wests are the finalists in the midget series, with Lizzies favored to win. The series should be a dandy.

Box-football looms on the horizon and we see Newmarket already has a league organized. The game had quite a following in Aurora a few years back and we believe it was the first time it was played in the district. Not too appealing as a spectator sport, it certainly provides the contestants with lots of rugged exercise.

There's no indication as yet that a league will go here, but from Woodbridge via Bert Young, secretary of the Woodbridge Legion branch, comes word of the sport catching on down south. Bert advises that already Maple, Humber Summit, Nortonville and Woodbridge have entered a league and they would like some outside competition from the north included. Aurora and Richmond Hill are both suggested as possibilities. Anyone in the district interested might contact this corner or write to Mr. Young at the Royal Bank, Woodbridge. The idea is to get the league fully organized and underway as soon as possible.

The Newmarket group under Mickey Smith, being pretty well self-contained, would probably not be interested except for play-offs between the groups. Come on you soccer enthusiasts!

There's no telling what these lacrosse experts will come up with. After the sour note that ended the Woodbridge vs. Combines series over Bill Cox and Bill Norton and a ruling handed down by the O.L.A., the boys went into a huddle last week and came up with a new formula to decide the issue.

Maple and Combines, as originally should have been the case, have been sent into a new semi-final round with the winner meeting Woodbridge for the Smith trophy. Maple and Com-biners started their series at Aurora on Monday night. The winner of these two will have the right to choose one player from the losing club to add to their team to play against Woodbridge, while Woodbridge will be allowed to play Cox and Norton throughout.

The decision, while probably welcome to the fans and productive of some fine sporting events in a season when outside activities are on the wane, hasn't so much logic to it, but it's entirely in keeping with the decisions being handed down in lacrosse circles for years. It falls in line, too, with the multifarious protests, scanning of rule books, appeals, reprieves and executive indecision and uncertainty that has characterized baseball and softball in the district all season and probably every other branch of sport too.

Well, we don't think anyone will kick very much. The gutted stick artists have always provided two bits worth of amusement every time out and the present series can't be changed (it says here). Bring on the warriors! Midget lacrosse finds Maple having a one-game lead on Combines with Aurora and Richmond Hill kids scheduled to meet in the other bracket. The Hill eliminated Woodbridge midgets in a sudden-death fixture. Aurora and Maple are favored to be finalists but anything can happen. The youngsters haven't received much support all year and now's the time for the fans to give them encouragement.

If Mickey Smith can get a team together, the winners will probably be glad to go over to canal town to put on a game for the folks.

Inglewood, conquerors of North York (Woodbridge), have eliminated Huntsville, whom the fans saw in action here. It was a close, hectic series and the Peel County boys, with Bill Norton on their line-up, will now meet Fergus in the O.L.A. finals.

Hee McKenzie, formerly of Bradford, is with the Fergus out to be Taylor's understudy. Nobleton will not have their rink for this winter. The boys have all the money, the site and part of the materials, but they can't get the essentials and so will have to wait until 1947. They won't be alone.

Schomberg, with this in mind, is taking its time on the rink situation there, although the funds are pretty well assured. Bradford, Bolton and Aurora arenas will be used if possible by the Schomberg boys who will cut a wide swath in hockey this winter.

Hugh Mal reported to Tulsa on Monday and the Newmarket boy will only have to go through the motions to hold his own. Billy Wilson was expected to join the team too, his leg injury of last season having completely cleared up, although there was rumor he would remain around to play senior amateur hockey. Could be, too.

Harry Dick, who played briefly for Aurora R.C.O.C. in 1943 and was at Newmarket camp the same year but was allowed to get away in a trade with Army Diggers, is being counted upon to make a place on the roster of Chicago Black Hawks.

Johnny Callanan is due to try another whirl with Kansas City this month and hopes to stick this time. Red Mitchell of Richmond Hill Combines of 1944, who was with Kansas City last winter, will again be with the Chicago farm team.

Rumor right now has a new junior C group formed in the district with Bradford, Newmarket, Aurora and possibly Richmond Hill, Stouffville or Sutton included as a fifth team. Stouffville is the only team at present who can really lay claim to that classification and coach Ike Harper, with most of his team back, has not been idle and he's got a couple of "mystery" players up his sleeve who should bring Stouffville at least a group title.

What Markham will do seems to be a big question for the Stouffville team to answer. Will they go back to C and so claim some of the players? Our guess is that you will find Markham concentrating on intermediate

Rats That Help the Farmer

Painless examination of this and hundreds of other white rats disclosed whether animal feeding oils and fortified whole milk powder contain as much Vitamin A as advertised. Hero, a technician in the Vitamin Assay laboratory of the Division of Chemistry, Science Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, prepares to weigh a rat to see if it is gaining on a diet supposed to be rich in Vitamin A. Farmers' organizations and feed manufacturers welcome this testing of animal feeds.

hockey with Stouffville having the right of way in the junior field.

How good are the kids around these parts who have been playing juvenile and midget the past couple of years? Well there's a few good enough for junior C in each town, others will come along, but, to be frank, in our opinion there weren't very many ready to play any better hockey than they were playing last year.

If we were running things, and we're not, we'd plug for a good, strong juvenile group for this year.

I know the boys want to play junior in many cases, but actually the calibre is not so far behind and another year's experience in lower company is needed. It is when you move out of the group that you really find out what class of hockey you are up against in junior C.

Financially, the group games in junior games until the playoffs wouldn't pay a bit more than would juvenile. It takes a few years to build up a following for a hockey team and going through the stages rather than a sudden jump is the way to achieve this. Don't forget too, that the fans are going for the so-called "bush league" hockey, which may well be raised to intermediate O.H.A. or O.R.H.A. classification. We pass this along, only as our own idea, but we'd be glad to hear from the players and fans.

By the way, we forgot to mention that Billy Mundell, the Aurora lad who has been one of the main players for Richmond Hill, will be out seeking a place on the Marlboros junior A team and this season he should make the grade. Mundell, a tireless worker, needs better coaching than he's been getting and he's smart enough to learn yet too.

Richmond Hill will definitely break its long minor hockey tie-up with the T.H.L. this season and concentrate and participate in the district minor leagues.

Ice facilities this season at all arenas promise to be taxed to the utmost and already Richmond Hill arena has called for requests to be made to council for those who want to use the ice. It's been hard to accommodate all in other years and this year it'll be worse.

Thanksgiving Day takes on an old familiar appearance and provides a fine day's sports menu as Aurora Cycling club stage their ten-mile road race. Riders within a 15-mile radius of Aurora are eligible to compete, and Jack Offord and George Spence are busy lining up the details.

Sam Jarvis is accepting entries for the Farmers and Hunters races at Beverley Farms the same afternoon. Carded will be the famous Prince of Wales cross-country and steeple-chase and several other events which will see some of Canada's leading amateur equestrians and their mounts in action. Complimentary tickets and a prize list are available for free by writing Mr. Jarvis at Aurora.

Flash! Since we wrote the above, Billy Taylor is no longer a member of the Leafs. "Billy the Kid" has been traded to Detroit for Harry Watson. Watson, so far as we are concerned and that goes for most of the fans, is a comparative unknown. It was supposed to be for defensive strength, and there's no gainsaying the fact, as Newmarket fans can testify, that Taylor is not fond of back-checking. The real story has not been told and probably won't be by the Toronto press.

Major Con Smythe and Taylor haven't seen eye to eye for some time, and you can guess one of the reasons from war years. Suffice to say on the face of it, Detroit has the best of the deal. Remember Flash Hollett, and the Doc Romnes-Bill Thomas? We'll soon know if "Trader Smythe" is up to his usual form.

Flash! Flash! Thornhill failed to show for the first game at Newmarket on Monday. It was raining cats and dogs down south, but the cannibal dimond was in good shape at game time. Thornhill failed to telephone, to add to the confusion. It's a tough spot for league president Doug May. Will the game count as win for the vets? If it does, it'll be the first argument George Kelson has lost all year.

Flash! Flash! Flash! It's Maple

Community Welcomes Mrs. Leonard Brown

A welcome party was held in the Community hall Friday for the only English bride to come to this community, Mrs. Leonard Brown. She recently arrived from her home in England to join her husband who had arrived some weeks ago.

The party, in which everyone joined, was sponsored by Roy Stewart's class of which Leonard had been a member.

While the party assembled, they were treated to the music of the orchestra, after which the guests of honor arrived and were escorted to their seats by Chas. Scott and Jack Pearson.

Mrs. Don. Stiver sang Because. After Mr. Stewart had welcomed them, he introduced Mr. Norman Dean of Toronto as master of ceremonies, who was assisted by other guest artists including Mrs. Harrigan, soloist, Maud Reid, impersonator, and Cecil Irwin, who was a marvellous pianist and who had only his left hand to play with.

After this program, Mr. and Mrs. Brown were brought to the platform, welcomed by representatives of several local organizations and then all present were asked to meet the young couple. Later lunch was served.

A long table was filled with shower gifts for their new home for which they said a sincere "thank you." The best wishes of all present went to these two young people, and we trust one English bride will long remember her Canadian reception.

Need Many Tickets To Reach Halifax Gibney Discovers

By DELBERT GIBNEY

Having been one of the 300 delegates to attend the 27th annual Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association convention at the Nova Scotia Hotel, Halifax, I will try to give you my experiences as an individual travelling for the first time by train.

One week before convention time the editor suggested it would be pleasant for my wife, Doris, and yours truly to attend the convention. Knowing that the trip and experience for both of us would be interesting and educational, we accepted the invitation.

little compartment and felt sure of a good night's sleep. But travel by train was a novelty and sleep was far away. Lying in our swaying berths in the darkness, it was nearly 4:30 a.m. before we slept. Before we knew it, the porter was calling "three quarters of an hour, Montreal". It was then 6:30 a.m.—what an hour to be getting up and so far away from home.

We arrived in Montreal spic and span and ready for breakfast, getting off the train at 7:15 a.m. and bound for the Windsor Hotel. Oh yes, before leaving the train, the porter saw to it that the luggage was ready and our clothes well brushed.

At 2:30 p.m. the entire press party boarded a special C.P.R. train for St. John. This was also an overnight journey but both of us slept like little kittens, arriving at St. John at 5:30 a.m., 4:30 a.m. Newmarket time. What an outrageous hour, we thought, and almost missed getting off the train.

The porter rang the buzzer and asked if our luggage was ready with St. John's 20 minutes away. One can dress in a hurry if time is short. Four bus coaches were waiting at the station to take us to the Mount Royal for breakfast and then to the boat. By 7:30 a.m. we were all aboard the Princess Helena for the crossing of the Bay of Fundy.

We left the port in rain and fog and were unable to see anything of St. John. Every minute the ship's fog horn blew the warning signal. Princess Helena is a luxurious boat with state-rooms on upper and lower decks and all the conveniences of home. We had not been long at sea when things began to happen. The waves were beginning to make the ship roll and toss. It was said that this particular crossing was the roughest voyage across the bay for a long time. I guess it was so to make us inlanders feel and see what it is like on the high seas.

Two hours at sea and you could tell that many of the press delegates were not in as jovial a mood as they had been in St. John. I began to think I was a good sailor but a half-hour before reaching Digby, I had the same feeling creep over me. That was one time my better half had the laugh on me.

We arrived at Digby at 11:30 a.m. and it sure was a grand feeling to be on solid land once

EN ROUTE TO HALIFAX

Attending the first annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association held since the war, more than 200 members travelled from Montreal to Halifax by special Canadian Pacific Railway train, crossed the Bay of Fundy on the Canadian Pacific's Princess Helena and finished their eastward trip aboard a special Dominion Atlantic Railway train. The Helena's radar equipment was a point of interest to the delegates on the water voyage and in upper photo wireless operator C. F. McMillan explains operation. During a side visit to the Grand Pre Memorial Park a group of Ontario delegates (centre), were pictured before the world-famous statue of Evangeline. Delegates were welcomed to Evangeline Memorial Park by A. A. Dunphy, manager of the Dominion Atlantic Railway (lower photo). Mrs. Wyman Porter, mayor of Kentville, N.S., who also welcomed the delegates, is shown at the extreme left.

The special train to Halifax was a "million dollar train", the finest since the royal tour, with the latest type of equipment in sleeping cars. This consideration for their comfort was fully appreciated by the delegates.

ERA STANDS TENTH IN WEEKLY CONTEST

In the better newspaper competitions sponsored by the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, The Newmarket Era and Express stood tenth in a field of 47 weekly newspapers of a circulation of 2,000 or more. The papers were classed on the following points: local news, district news, editorials, advertising, typography, pictures and classified ads.

The Era and Express score was 66.1 of a possible 100. The winner, Penticton Herald, B.C., had total of 30.9. Vernon News, B.C., and the Brampton Conservator, Ont., were second and third with 79.0 and 76.7.

C.W.N.A. PRESIDENT

Major Walter Ashfield, president and publisher of the Grenfell, Sask., Sun, was elected president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association at its annual convention. He succeeds Hugh Templin, editor of the Fergus, Ont., News-Record.

A native of England, Major Ashfield entered newspaper work at the age of 16 in Brandon, Man. During the First Great War he saw service in Europe with the 85th Nova Scotia Highlanders and upon his return he purchased the Grenfell Sun. Early in the Second Great War he entered active service as a major instructing in artillery schools for officers. He had been vice president of the C.W.N.A. since 1939 and was vice president of the Saskatchewan division of the same body in 1931. He holds membership with boards of many community organizations.

Ashworth United Church Marks Diamond Jubilee

By REV. A. F. BAMFORD

On Sunday, Sept. 15, 1946, Ashworth United church celebrated the 60th anniversary of its building on the present site on the sixth line of Scott, Rev. A. J. G. Carscadden, who served the charge from 1907 to 1911, was the preacher for this occasion.

Mr. Carscadden preached to a packed church both morning and evening. The young men stood throughout the services in the vestibule. His sermons were uplifting and inspiring and made us feel "It is good to be here." The choir was made up in the morning of those who had served the church in this capacity in past years, and some of its members were creeping up in years. But they did excellent service and their numbers were enjoyed by all. In the evening our present-day choir gave us the music, and they were in their usual efficient style.

According to the researches of the Rev. Geo. Murray who prepared a history of the church on the occasion of its Golden Jubilee, Ashworth had its inception in 1852 on a piece of ground bought from Jos. Miller on the seventh line where the Foster Memorial cemetery is now situated. This cause was under the Bible Christian church and came into the union of 1884. Two years later, the churches on the seventh closed and the church on the sixth was opened for worship, probably because it was more central for the families. Mr. Carscadden was able to supply the names of the ministers who had served the present church with the exception of one. Mr. Carscadden is nearly totally blind and is at present preaching for the National Institute for the Blind, even though he has been retired from the active ministry for several years. It was inspiring to hear him recite a long chapter from the Epistle to the Romans; to think that in his old age and suffering under such a handicap he is doing so valiant and heroic a service.

Friday evening, Sept. 20, our celebration was continued by a concert given by the "boys" of the Fred Victor Mission, under the leadership of Rev. Wesley Hunnissett. These boys ranged from the age of 12 to 70, for their pianist confessed to the latter age. They were able musicians — violins, cello and piano-accordion. One young lad of 12 gave two splendid vocal solos, as also did an older man. Their music and singing had wonderful verve and inspiration. Mr. Hunnissett conducted his orchestra himself and undoubtedly imparted his own enthusiasm to the "boys".

Great credit is due to our very able and self-denying organist, Mrs. Alex. Noble, for training our choirs. She gave of her time without stint and the choirs responded and gave excellent services on the Sunday. Our anniversary was an inspiring time, and as a congregation, we take courage, give to Almighty God the glory, and go forward.

GETTING ACQUAINTED

By J. JAY WATSON

In our town of Newmarket we live many streets. To some of the newer residents most of the streets are unknown and unexplored ground; so to these comparatively recent residents opportunity is open for getting acquainted.

We read from the Bible times of the highways of thought and we acquaint ourselves with the meaning of these highways, open up new avenues of knowledge and understanding.

Communities of the country are the outgrowth of small hamlets; some of these became towns, small cities and added growth to large cities; some, because of advantageous locations and lines of communication, attain the status of metropolitan cities and, of course, a great metropolitan city ends its boundaries.

Getting acquainted with a community whether large or small is a slow process—getting acquainted with the spiritual side of life is also a slow process. Even the heights to which a learned scholar may attain is perhaps far short of his or her ambition.

William Lyon Phelps says: "I believe a knowledge of the Bible without a college course is more valuable than a college course without the Bible".

He spoke from a fulness of scholarly knowledge and wide experience. Bible truths widen our horizons and enrich life.

Every church has, or should have, a Sunday-school, but something tells me that in addition to the Sunday-school classes for juniors, there should be a Bible class for every 25 adults in the community. Thus would people be better acquainted with the meaning of life and the treasures that life has in store for the seeker.

Just as getting acquainted with the community in which we live may enlarge and encourage our neighborly interest, so getting acquainted with the avenues of thought in the Bible multiplies our concerns for neighborliness.

William E. Berry says: "A neighbor helps to supply needs, and he enters sympathetically as far as he has opportunity into the shape of others' lives. He contributes of the meaning of his life, the modicum of good which he has to the lack in others. All men perhaps need this human sharing."

Combines Down For 8-6 Count To Maple In Rugged Contest

Combines bowed out of the intermediate lacrosse picture for 1946 as they went down to defeat before Maple Buds 8-6 in a rugged game at Aurora arena on Monday night. Maple had won the previous contest 9-6 at Maple on Saturday night.

Eliminated by Woodbridge, Combines gained life by executive ruling, the original plan of second and third place meeting being carried out, with Woodbridge going to the finals.

Maple came from behind to take the contest after the Buds had built up an early lead. The Maple team had too much condition and passing superiority for the Combines and took full advantage of a momentary lapse on the part of Bert Middlebrook's boys to coast home.

Stan Foster got the opening goal, only to have Harry Burton score two beauties in a row. Hugh Kerr beat Harry Rumble to the lead but Al McNair was allowed to roam down the right boards and score as the period ended.

Cleve Burton got the lone goal of the second stanza to give Combines what looked like a commanding lead. Gordy Orr picked up a loose ball to lessen the lead as the third period opened and then Bill Mabery got his first goal of the season to maintain the pace for Combines. Bill Park and Gordy Ingram took full advantage of a wilting Combines team to knot the count with two fine efforts.

Lanky Eldon Fierheller put Maple in the lead two minutes after the fourth quarter started and Roy Thompson went for a beauty to put the shoe on the other foot. With Combines playing short handed, Ray Burton coasted in for a pretty counter and seconds, later with Gordy Smith out of his net on the offensive, Combines just failed to tie it. Thompson came back in the dying moments to beat Smith and put the game on ice.

The game was rough and saw the heaviest checking of the year with Referees Syd Prosser and Tubby Burrows, Brampton, having to call the boys into conference on several occasions.

Roy Thompson, Al McNair, Al Orr and Gordy Orr were the best for the winners and goalie Harry Rumble, after a poor start, finished in a blaze of glory. Harry Burton, Gordy Smith and Norm Alexander were the main trio for Combines. Jeff Elliott and Scotty Johnston couldn't get going and with this duo off form, the mail-carrying was left to the pony line. Cleve Burton was checked too closely to be very effective.

Maple now meets Woodbridge, the first game being in Maple on Friday night. A strong possibility exists that Woodbridge will make Aurora their home rink, at least coach Russell Rowntree has requested practice dates. The series should be a clinker and Maple, now coming strong, should prove troublesome to the Woodbridge smoothies.

TORONTO CHURCH WEDDING SCENE

Carlton Street United Church Toronto, decorated with standards of white gladioli, was the setting Saturday evening, Sept. 21, of a lovely wedding when Anne Kershaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whittaker, Toronto, became the bride of Charles Edmund Ryder, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Ryder, Liverpool, Eng.

Mr. Ryder, Rev. J. Findley officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a period gown of ivory faille taffeta, matching fingertip veil of net with coronet of lily of the valley. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and gladioli.

Mrs. Audrey Thompson, matron of honor, was gowned in mist blue crepe, fashioned with tight bodice, full skirt and cap sleeves. She wore matching long gloves and half bonnet with off the face blue feather halo.

She carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman roses and peach gladioli.

Carol Boothby, Keswick, was in a long dress of petal pink taffeta, bicycle clip headdress of same material, caught at either side with blue forget-me-nots.

She carried a nosegay of sweetheart roses and cornflowers.

Ruth Alder and a friend were home on Sunday.

We were all glad to see the rain as the farmers have been unable to plough.

Mrs. Thompson from Brownhill was at Roche's Point last Tuesday for the Institute meeting.

URGES COMMON SENSE IN CARE OF ANIMALS

Col. R. S. Timmins, D.S.O., Aurora, supported the practice of vivisection at the recent meeting of the Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Col. Timmins, an expert horseman and vice-president of the association, spoke on the subject What Is Cruelty?

He pointed out that vivisection, as practised by the medical profession, was generally humane and the good that came from such experiments had a direct benefit to mankind which in turn benefitted animals.

Common sense and education regarding animals is the prime need today, he said. "Often well meaning, but misguided and uninformed people caused more harm than good to the work of the society.

Complaints about fox hunting were not well founded, he said. There is less cruelty in a fox hunt than in almost any abattoir, he added. Common sense was the answer to the problem in dealing with animals, he concluded.

MEET TONIGHT

A meeting of Canadian Legion zone representatives is being held in Aurora this evening at 8 p.m. Delegates from nine branches will elect a new zone commander as well as zone officers. ## EXPECT V.O.N. SERVICES HERE BY OCTOBER

It is expected that the Victorian Order of Nursing will be established in Aurora by Oct. 1. The committee in charge has worked tirelessly to raise funds and complete arrangements. Miss Elizabeth Smellie, chief supervisor of the order, has announced that the services of Miss Marjorie MacIntosh of Fort William will be available for Aurora, and the local committee has approved. Miss MacIntosh is expected here daily.

A graduate of Port Arthur General Hospital and a public health nursing course at the University of Toronto, with some general experience in other communities, Miss MacIntosh comes to Aurora with a fine reputation and the committee in charge is well pleased with the appointment.

Offices will be established in the old town hall in conjunction with the police officers, providing suitable office space and easy accessibility for townspeople. Arrangements have not yet been completed for securing a car for Miss MacIntosh, but the committee has this in hand, and temporary arrangements for transportation have been made to provide the best possible service.

There are now over 200 local memberships, and many more are expected once the V.O.N. organization gets underway. In addition there will be support from local industries and other community organizations. The town of Aurora will supply a grant of $500 for this year and next year it is expected the municipal grant will be doubled.

"We will be ready to serve the public on October 1," Mrs. L. C. Lee, chairman of the local committee, said. Mrs. Lee points out that a private telephone will be installed in the office but the number is not yet allocated.

Those wishing to use the services of the V.O.N. nurse will either call direct or their physician may call her.

The nurse will pay one visit to a home without medical approval but after that the approval of the family physician for the continuance of visits must be obtained. Miss Marian Ferguson, the regional supervisor, is coming to Aurora next week along with Miss MacIntosh.

Mrs. Lee said. "We will get off to a good start and we hope the public will not be afraid to make use of this boon to the community."

Perdue, will be the celebrant at Holy Communion.

At 8 p.m. on that day, Archbishop Derwyn T. Owen of Toronto, Primate of All Canada, will be the special anniversary preacher and a reception will follow in the parish hall.

On Saturday, Sept. 28, there will be a tea and exhibit of historical importance in the parish hall, under the auspices of the ladies of the parish.

On Sunday, Sept. 29, at 11 a.m., Rev. E. W. G. Worrall of King and Rev. P. R. Soanes of Toronto will be in charge of the service, and at 7 p.m. Rev. G. O. Lightbourne, O.B.A., will be the preacher.

The historic booklet published to commemorate the event is attracting much favorable comment. The 28-page booklet is beautifully illustrated and is valued as a permanent memento by those who have been fortunate enough to secure a copy.

DID YOU EVER WALK UP 20 FLOORS?

Any time you have walked up even three or four floors you have probably grumbled at the lack of elevator service. But have you realized just how impossible a modern city would be without vertical transportation . . . or how impractical and costly elevators would be without electric power? Elevator service is just one example of countless taken-for-granted ways in which electricity serves in daily life.

The home washer, electric range, refrigerator, and vacuum cleaner all take a lot of muscle-testing toll out of maintaining a home. Imagine one cent running a washing machine or a vacuum cleaner for a couple of hours, or giving refrigeration for a whole day! But that is what one cent's worth of electricity can do at average Ontario rates.

On a farm, any time you see men pitching hay into a loft you can figure that the job is worth approximately 1c per ton. Anyway, that is about what it would cost for electricity to do the same work at average Ontario rural rates. More and more farmers are learning that electricity is the cheapest labor they can hire. And your Hydro is doing everything possible to extend rural services as rapidly as the supply of materials will permit.

Whether you live in town or country, whether you work in skyscraper or barn, Hydro works for you in Ontario at a cost much lower than obtainable in most other parts of the world. Make the best use of it.

POT POURRI

By GOLDEN GLOW

I was going to head this "Amateur Show" but there are half a dozen other things I want to say so too I'll write a pot pourri, a hodge podge or whatever you like to call it for this week. You see, I was reading over the coming events in the paper and the one telling about the Women's Institute fair and amateur show caught my eye.

At once I was in memory back in our good old town hall (packed to the doors), enjoying with the rest the last amateur show put on by the Veterans. I was not there both nights, worse luck, for the program was different each evening.

The Newmarket public is in for another delightful evening early in October for I feel sure the coming event will equal, if not exceed, the former one! Such unexpected talent in our midst—it is amazing! Of course amateur night isn't all the program the W.I. is sponsoring—no indeed! I don't need to enlarge on that for by now everybody in town and round about town for miles knows of the two-day fair held in the market hall—a sort of harvest home with fruit and vegetables and flowers and plants, perennial roots and above all, home baking with a delightful afternoon tea—that is, if it follows the same procedure as of other years with a program put on by Mrs. Eugene Cane's pupils and a talk by our ever-popular Joe McCulley of Pickering College in the afternoon.

Dear me, you'd think I was an advertising agency—which you know I'm not. I'm just Golden Glow interested in everything connected with our town. And, you see, as we are all interested in the activities connected with our Women's Institute, especially that splendid rest room on Botsford St., why not give credit where credit is due? If our W.I. had done nothing else, that alone would be a crowning achievement.

Somebody asked me if I thought the fine weather of last week was Indian summer. I said I sincerely hoped not. I think the weatherman put September on the calendar backwards! But certainly the weather felt like winter and you know we must have square winter before Indian summer. The early frost certainly did a tremendous lot of damage but, even so, plenty was left to assure us of a bountiful harvest. I went to see how the market was progressing a few weeks ago and I was amazed to see chickens so plentiful. The Toronto buyer I saw loading them into his car certainly had a wonderful supply. No doubt from now on, poultry will be coming in plentifully.

What changes our old town has seen lately. Another new business is to be opened very soon. Yes—opposite the post office, the former popular editor of The Express-Herald is opening a shoe and men's haberdashery business. Bolton's Bakery is closed and under repair and renovation, having been sold to Elman Campbell who is moving his stationery and fine china

CAR DEALER FINED ON CEILING CHARGES

James Wilson of Sutton, 26, pleaded guilty in magistrate's court here last Friday of violating four of the W.P.T.B. regulations concerning the re-sale of used cars. Magistrate J. E. Pritchard, K.C., presided.

On a charge of offering a 1941 Plymouth for sale for $1,100, he was fined $350 and costs or three months.

He was fined $100 and costs or one month each on charges of failure to complete and file statements with the W.P.T.B., failure to produce records of cars and sales, and failure to complete books and accounts.

The ledger of the accused contained no records of business transacted since he took over the business, and there were no details on his cheque book stubs; Alfred Manser, W.P.T.B. investigator, testified. He said the sale price of the car was $350 over the ceiling.

J. G. Gardiner, K. C., for the defence, said that accused had only had a public school education, and that he had found it beyond his ability to keep the required records. He said that he had been unable to get an auditor to do it.

J. M. Magwood acted for the Crown.

Charged by Constable J. E. Jardine with dangerous driving, William B. Graham, Toronto, was convicted of the lesser charge of careless driving. His own statement was the only evidence against him. He was fined $25 and costs or one month.

Nicholas Hoare, charged with dangerous driving by Constable W. R. Hill after his car had crashed into a coal truck driven by Cecil Harris west of Belhaven, was convicted and fined $25 and costs or one month. Accused admitted making a wide turn on a curve and being wholly on the wrong side of the road as he approached the truck. According to the evidence the car struck the right side of the truck, the latter being overturned by the impact.

Hoare claimed, despite Harris' statement that the car was travelling fast, that he had not been going over 25 m.p.h.

"If you were only doing 25 m.p.h. you should have been able to stop," commented Magistrate Pritchard in passing sentence.

Alfred Bergen, Lansing, was acquitted on a charge of careless driving following a three-car collision at Armitage.

From the evidence, Bergen, driving north on Yonge St. at Armitage, clipped the left rear end of a south-bound car driven by Gordon Hubert, careened off and ploughed into the car which Hubert was passing.

Bergen claimed that it was a three-lane highway, and that both he and Hubert were passing cars going in opposite directions. He said that he lost control after the impact with the first car. Magistrate Pritchard decided that evidence was not sufficient to support the charge, and referred the drivers concerned to the civil court to settle the question of damages.

K. M. R. Stiver acted for the accused.

Everett Hodgins, accused of careless driving, was fined $15 and costs or one month. Hodgins said that he had been driving along a sideroad at 35 m.p.h. When he put on his brakes to stop at Yonge St., they failed to hold, he said. When he tried to negotiate the turn onto Yonge St., he saw a southbound car for the first time, and in an attempt to escape a collision he lost control and turned over in the ditch.

"I am satisfied that the accused did not have his truck in proper control regardless of the condition of the brakes," Magistrate Pritchard said. Prov. Constable William A. Melbourne

BORN IN BALDWIN

Arthur W. Tomlinson, another of Keswick's citizens, passed away Sunday at his Toronto home, 96 Glenholme Ave.

He was born in Baldwin but had lived many years in Keswick, having retained his home here after accepting a Toronto position. A great lover of flowers, he spent many happy weekends at his home here, working at beautifying his garden, and was generous in sharing his flowers with others.

An adherent of the Christian church, of upright character and sunny disposition, he will be missed by many in his home town. He leaves his wife, May Lemon, and son, Arnold. His mother, Mrs. John Warriner, predeceased him some years ago.

The funeral was held on Wednesday from the chapel of MacDougal and Brown, St. Clair Ave. W., Toronto, with interment in Queensville. Rev. R. W. Serrick conducted the service.

CORRECTION

In the report on P. W. Pearson in last week's issue of The Era and Express, it was stated that the coal and lumber business of Hoag and Pearson is now known as W. H. Eves and Co. This was in error. The firm of W. H. Eves and Co. was founded by Mr. Eves in 1906 in opposition to Hoag and Pearson and was controlled and operated by him until 1940 when it was sold to Earl Weddell. When Mr. Pearson retired from business, Mr. Eves bought what lumber he had in his yard and Mr. Pearson's business was closed.

In Memoriam

Milsted—In loving memory of our dear mother who passed away September 27, 1945.

One year has passed, dear mother,

Since you were called away. How well do we remember.

That sad and weary day.

You suffered much, you murmured not;

We watched you day by day.

We cried and prayed that your dear life.

Would not be taken away.

Sadly missed and ever remembered by daughters, Elsie and Florence.

Pegg—in loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Samuel Pegg, who died October 1, 1945.

The blow was great, the shock severe,

We little thought the end was near,

And only those who have lost can tell.

The pain of parting without fare-well.

More each day we miss you, father,

Friends may think the wound is healed,

But they little know the sorrow

That lies within our hearts concealed.

Ever remembered by son Fred, daughter-in-law Audrey, and grandchildren, Bobby, David and Jimmie.

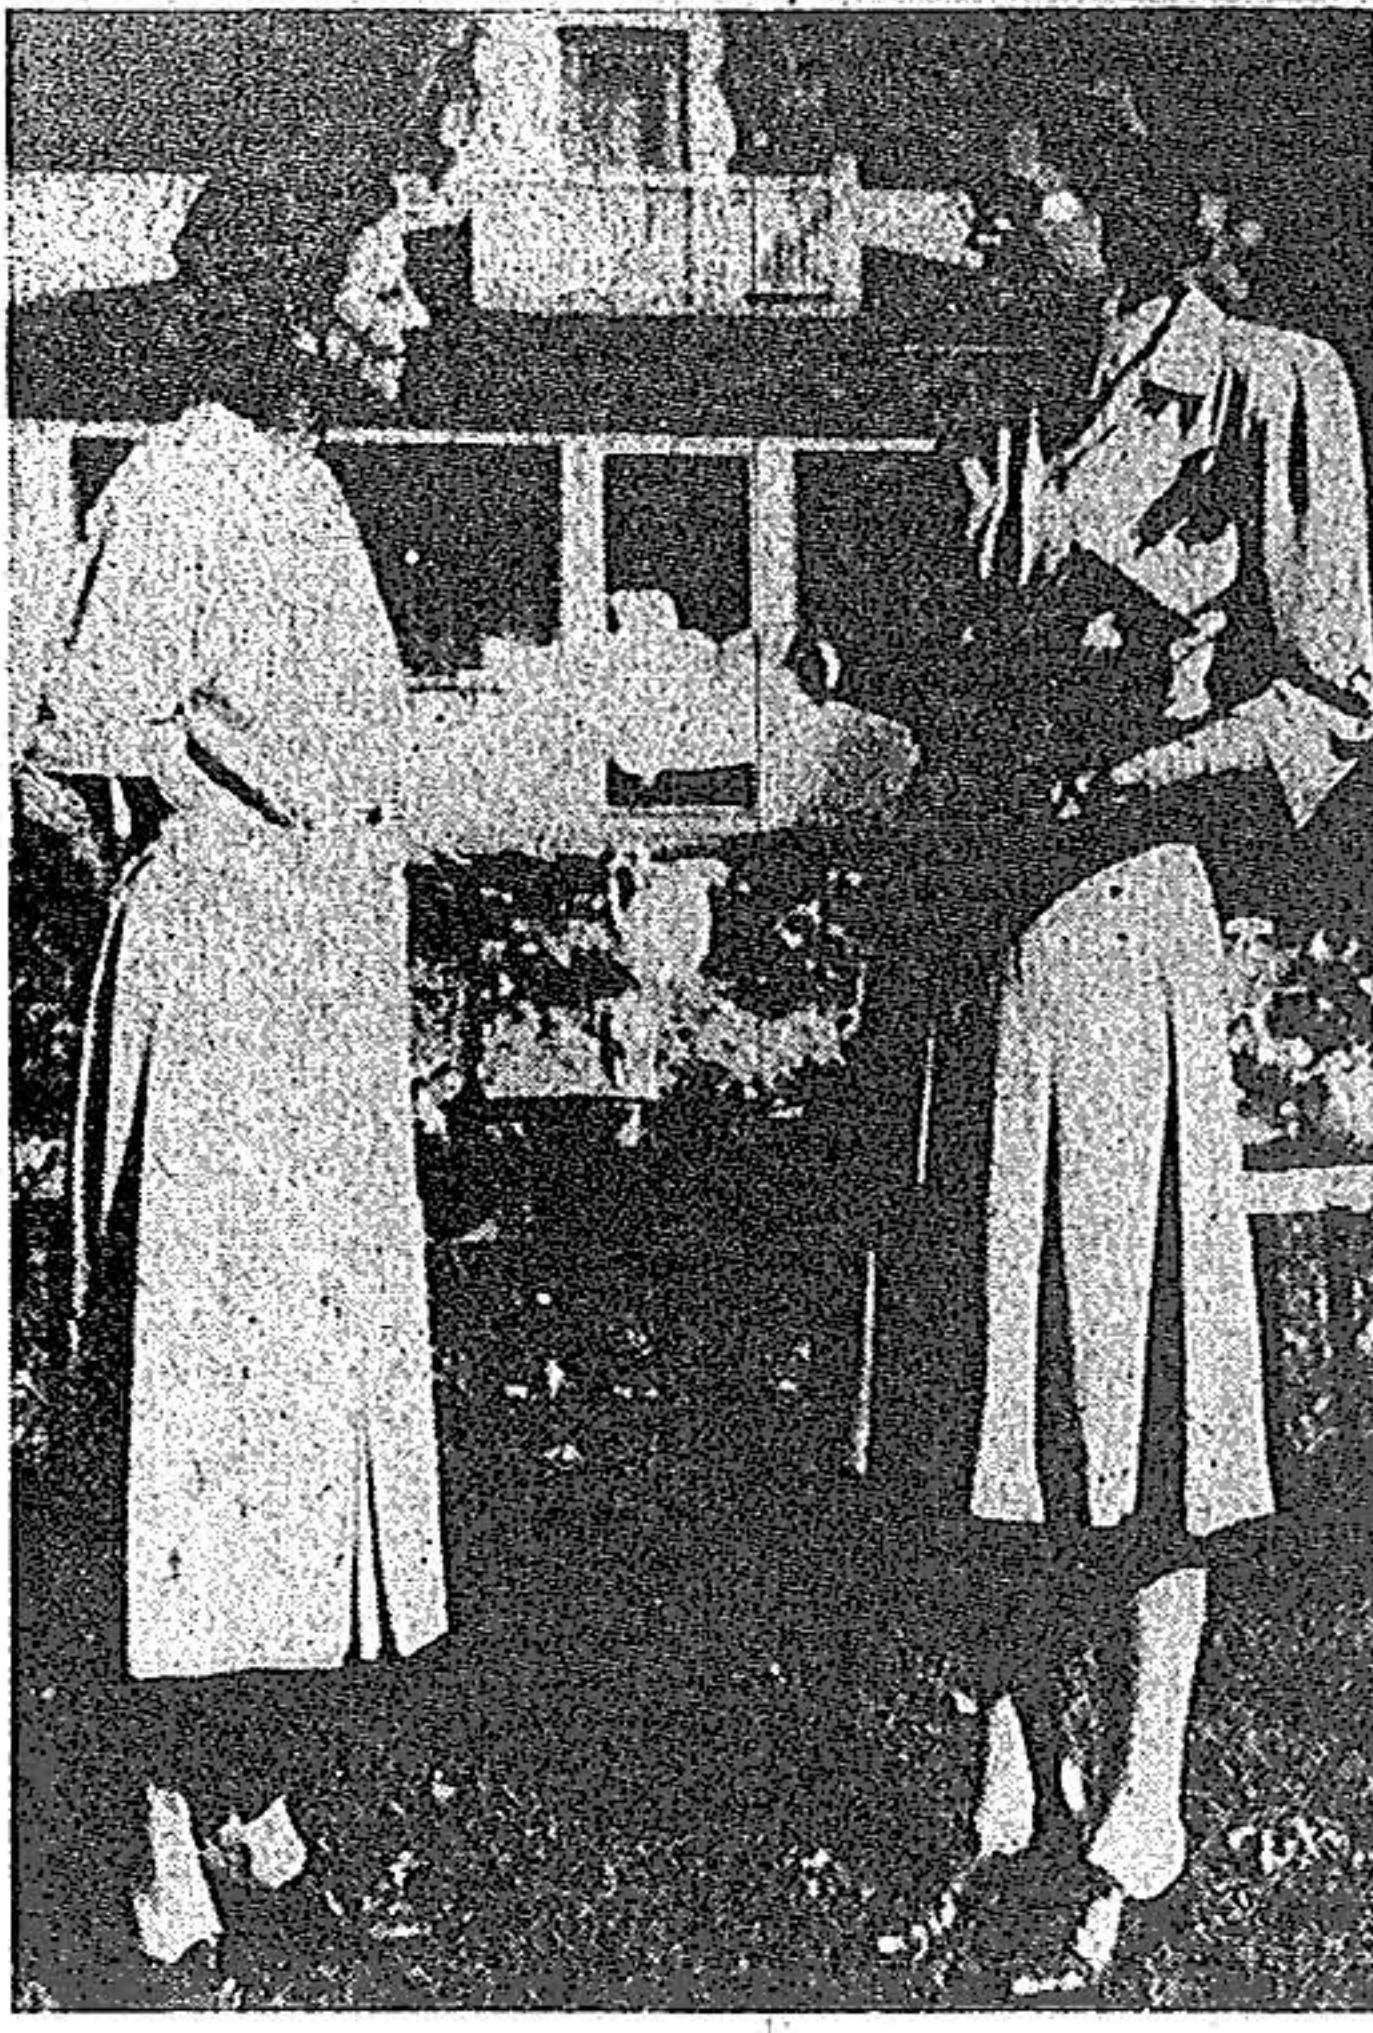

Bache—in loving memory of Mary A. Bache who died September 25, 1945.

And while she lies in peaceful sleep Her memory we shall always keep.

Ever remembered by sister, brother, sister-in-law, nieces and nephews.

Letters to the editor are always welcome. If you have something on your mind, write it down and send it to the editor.

FOUR OF SAME CLAN CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

There was a delightful birthday party held at the home of Mrs. John Smith, Yonge St., last Sunday afternoon when the members of four related families celebrated birthdays all occurring in September. These were Mr. W. J. Fuller, brother of Mrs. Smith and the oldest of the birthday guests, Mrs. Gerald Brunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. Franklin and Harold Proctor.

Lacrosse. There will be a lacrosse practice in the arena on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 for those who are interested in playing in a midget lacrosse league. Leave your name with us and if you have any hockey gloves, bring them along.

Baseball. The Newmarket juniors lost last Saturday to Stouffville and they are all through for the year. It was a hard way to lose after the O.B.A. gave them the o.k. the first time, then turned around and made them play the game over again. Newmarket Vets are one game up on Thornhill for the J. L. Spillette trophy which can be seen in Budd's window. It is a lovely trophy and, Joe, we would like to thank you for donating it.

Soccer. We have run into a little trouble with our league but now it is all straightened out and we will try to play our first game this Friday night. Watch for bills later this week.

Checkers and cribbage. We have not had any word as yet who would like to play in a checker or club tournament. If anyone is interested in this form of entertainment we would gladly arrange a meeting to get this going.

Rodeo. The Newmarket Recreation council is bringing a rodeo to Newmarket on Nov. 11, 12 and 13. Don't miss this big attraction. It is for young and old.

Rifle club. There are quite a few people who are interested in forming a rifle club. We are getting their names and we will call a meeting next week to organize this club.

The Newmarket Legion is putting on a dance in the drill hall on Oct. 9 in aid of the Newmarket Recreation Council.
